WHAT CAN YOU EXPECT? WHAT DOES FALCON OFFER?

Inconsistencies in contouring target and critical structures can seriously undermine the precision of conformal radiation therapy planning and are generally considered to be the biggest and most unpredictable source of errors in radiation oncology.

A very important priority for ESTRO for the coming years is to offer its members more online educational and professional services. Within this perspective, ESTRO decided to create a multifunctional platform for contouring and delineation,

FALCON Fellowship in Anatomic deLineation and CONtouring
